COURSE DESCRIPTION AND OBJECTIVES

Based on an interdisciplinary, intersectional, subalternist and post-colonial approach, this course is a general introduction to the history, sociology and anthropology of the economy of the sex-trade in Africa, America, Asia and Europe from the early nineteenth century to today. It aims to clarify: 1) the historiographical situation by questioning and analyzing the French regulatory system and its many avatars in Europe, the United States and in the colonial world, but also questioning the backlash to this system that consisted firstly of the abolitionist (born in England in the second half of the nineteenth century) and then the prohibitionist movements; 2) The relationship between class, “race” and gender in the sex market via issues of human trafficking and sex tourism in Europe, America, Africa and Asia; 3) The socio-economic issue - and its political connections – in the economy of sex with particular attention to individuals (prostitutes versus sex workers), their voices, their legal status, and even their mobilization (rallies and demonstrations, community collectives and trade unions, political and/or literary publications), but also the many heated debates that these demands for recognition and these mobilizations have provoked in places as diverse as France, the Netherlands and India to take only three specific examples in the world covered in the course.

In this course students will learn to work on the entire gamut of primary sources from the most traditional (e.g. essays, political statements, press reviews, administrative reports, demographic statistics, judicial archives, etc.) to less commonly used sources such as iconographic materials (e.g. paintings, photography, postcards, films) as well as private diaries, correspondence, etc. These primary sources will be studied in each session and will be contextualized in relation to secondary sources.

COURSE POLICIES AND EXPECTATIONS

- Attendance and participation are mandatory
- Each student is allowed one unjustified absence for the entire length of the course, with the exception of religious holidays
- Medical absences must be justified by a medical certificate
- Each absence beyond the authorized threshold will lower the final grade by $\frac{1}{2}$ point (i.e.: with two absences a 19 becomes an 18, etc.)
- In addition to attendance students should plan on being punctual. Please note that 3 lateness (10 minutes or more) are equivalent to 1 full absence
- All assignments handed in late without the authorization of the instructor will be penalized

CLASS RULES

- No eating
- No cell phones
- No laptops or other electronic devices
- Leaving the room once class has begun is considered very impolite in France

COURSE MATERIALS

In addition to the course handbook provided by the Columbia in Paris staff and compiled by the professor, students must purchase and read (throughout the semester) Gayle S. Rubin & Judith Butler, Marché au sexe, Paris, EPEL, 2002.

ASSIGNMENTS AND GRADING PROCEDURES

In addition to regular attendance, students must complete advance readings of the texts that accompany each session in order to actively participate in the discussion. The preparation of these readings entails making note (in French) of the arguments you intend to bring to the classroom discussion (your notes will be used by the instructor to assess the quality of your oral participation and as part of your ongoing evaluation). Please note that while the course is based on primary source analysis, secondary bibliographies will also be used to enrich our understanding of the subjects. The reading of these sources is also mandatory.

Overall course evaluation is done under the following conditions:

- Ongoing assessment of your written notes prepared in advance for use during all class discussions : 20%
- Oral presentation X 2 of a primary source (you may use notes, but you cannot read your presentation, note that you will not obtain an A if you read your exposé) for 30 to 40 minutes: 30%
- Primary text commentary (8 to 10 pages, note that you will not obtain an A if the Bibliography of the Primary text commentary does not contain, at least, 3 or 4 academic articles and 1 book chapter): 20%
- Final Exam: 30%

ACCOMMODATIONS FOR STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES

Students needing academic adjustments or accommodations because of a documented disability should contact the administrative staff directly. All discussions will remain confidential.

COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY FACULTY STATEMENT ON ACADEMIC INTEGRITY

The intellectual venture in which we are all engaged requires of faculty and students alike the highest level of personal and academic integrity. As members of an academic community, each one of us bears the responsibility to participate in scholarly discourse and research in a manner characterized by intellectual honesty and scholarly integrity. Scholarship, by its very nature, is an iterative process, with ideas and insights building one upon the other. Collaborative scholarship requires the study of other scholars' work, the free discussion of such work, and the explicit acknowledgement of those ideas in any work that inform our own. This exchange of ideas relies upon a mutual trust that sources, opinions, facts, and insights will be properly noted and carefully credited.

- In practical terms, this means that, as students,
 - you must be responsible for the full citations of others' ideas in all of your research papers and projects
 - you must be scrupulously honest when taking your examinations
 - you must always submit your own work and not that of another student, scholar, or internet agent
 - In case of plagiarism, the student's assignment will be directly sent to the Director of the program and an F will be attributed to that particular assignment.
